- An opportunity to observe, identify and look after the local flora and fauna and to learn about more sustainable living in a God-honouring way.
- Enjoy the friendly, multi-national community of this natural and eco-friendly camp site.

MEMORABLE HOLIDAYS WITH PEOPLE WHO SHARE THE SAME PASSION FOR GOD AND THE PROTECTION OF HIS CREATION

- Bring your tent / caravan or camper van and pitch on one of the 60 bare pitches
- In a group of 20 to 30 'A Rocha' campers, participate in daily ecological activities in the Trieux valley, and in morning services of reflexion, prayer and worship

NATURE AND ACTIVITIES AT MILIN KERHE

The wooded Trieux Valley stretches for 60 kilometers, from central Brittany to the sea. Milin Kerhé lies at its heart, ideally situated to observe the valley's great natural diversity.

The site's watermill is home to the largest colony of bats (Daubentons) in northwest France, which can be observed every evening from the bridge.

The Trieux also hosts one of France's last salmon populations, which, along with other aquatic species, are highly prized by otters which leave various traces of their presence as they pass by the site each night.

During your stay, afternoon activities led by the Côtes d'Armor Local A Rocha Group, will include workshops, inventories, and hands-on projects related to ecology, conservation, and sustainable living.

You can also participate in a raft-building activity and a lesson in circus arts, accessible to all ages.

There will be plenty of opportunities to relax or explore the region, including the beautiful Breton coastline.
